PROGRAM DETAILS:

AGENTCIO.OBJ is a text adventure, by Mark Butler. It was in the ABACUS library (disk #67- 12/86). You are an agent of the CIO (Atari's Central Input/Output processor system).
A user has encountered a BOOT ERROR. It's up to you to find and fix the problem, before he turns off the Atari, & buys a Commodore or PC!

ANTICPAK.BAS- by Eugene Koh, from ANTIC (3/89), is a collection of disk utilities written in ATARI BASIC with no machine language subroutines. It contains 5 complete program routines. Each one will run independently from the main menu. All you do is follow the prompts!

HAIKU.BAS by Albert Bagetta/ANTIC 8/87 is an A.I. experiment in Japan's classic 3-line poetry form (of 5; 7;& 5 syllables/line). It has flute music & JAPAN.FNT. Press any

Taking too long -

BELLCOM disk #371 (entitled COMPY SHOP DEMO or PAGE 6 Library Disk #87) is a huge German DEMO with 8 gRaphics displays, a title screen, & excellent background music. It goes 15 minutes, and repeats if you let it. To end any segment hit [START]. It will not work on an XL/XE (use a translator) and do NOT boot with BASIC! Leave the disk in the drive during play. There is no Directory;- I've called the displays: (1)Golden Cylinder; (2)Dripping Pipe; (3)Golden Wave (or SLINKY); (4)Rods; (5)Player Piano; (6)Diamond Geometric (7)Animated Band von FROG DESIGN; and (8)Hexagonal Geometric.

Minutes & Who's got one!

The April 2nd meeting started at the very correct hour of 8 PM, convened by President Robbie Bridges. For an interesting change, all Officers were present and accounted for. (All these things like starting the meetings on time and showing up for meetings is just a blatant attempt to get reelected to their cushy jobs again.)

Robbie showed all the various items for this evenings raffle. Another printer showed up, a historic 1020, several modems as well as an assortment of books and magazines.

Just to prove he is better than Bob Woolley at demonstrating 8 BIT floppy's, Robbie did the honors. Guess what, he isn't better, he's worse - a lot worse. Not only does he have a problem playing the games and using the utilities the audience has to coach him on how to use the 8 BIT. As far as the Floppy is concerned it has several games to keep you interested and the back of the disk is Bellcom's Earth Scientist disk number three.

In order to satisfy the club regulations, Nominations for Officers for the forthcoming year were held. What with the president only accepting nominations from his buddies when it was all over the same bunch of Officers were the only ones nominated. Remember if you don't get off your backsides and run, we will be stuck with the same old Officers again. You have another chance to nominate at next months meeting on May seventh. If we have an election it will be held during the June forth meeting.

Other than being cheated at the monthly raffle again there was nothing else of importance happening and the meeting was adjourned about 9:45.

By the way. The question of who's got one could be answered by anyone who has run across a loan calculation program for Windows on a PC. Am looking for a program that will permit extra payments, balloon payment and other non standard items and still be able to keep track of the balance. If you know of one let me know.

For a final item I have to report that some lowlife, low level, long straggly hairdo member has been passing a virus along to all the good guys in the club. Watch yourself because any guy who would pass a virus along to our President is real bad news. Perhaps we should excommunicate this lowlife or maybe emasculate him or something. Being nothing else to complain about will close. See you at the meeting?

Jim Moran Secretary

Next Meeting- Tuesday, May7th.
NO ST/PC Meeting this month!!
